TPN was delighted to welcome Dragos Tudorache Member of the European Parliament and Vice-President of the Renew Europe Group. He is the LIBE rapporteur on the AI Act and has played a prominent role in steering the AI Act towards conclusion and adoption. He provided an excellent summary of the relevance of the Act and the likely next steps before its adoption at EU level which was followed by an in-depth exchange on key aspects, It became clear from the discussion that the AI Act offers an anchor for global deliberation, The aim must be for an international governance structure to develop, with cooperation starting between the US and at the transatlantic standards level. The hope is that the TTC will be able to function as a valuable platform for transatlantic collaboration".
